REQUEST FOR PROPOSAL FOR

FAMILY SUPPORT AND YOUTH TRANSITION SERVICES

PART I: ADMINISTRATIVE AND GENERAL INFORMATION

1.1 Purpose

This Request for Proposals (RFP) is issued by the State of Louisiana, Department of Public Safety and Corrections, Youth Services, Office of Juvenile Justice (herein referred to as OJJ, YS or the State) to obtain competitive proposals from bona fide, qualified Proposers who are interested in providing family support and transition services for youth who are under the supervision/custody of Youth Services (YS). The typical youth currently referred to OJJ is between the ages of fifteen (15) and eighteen (18) years old.

Family involvement is an essential element at all points of the juvenile justice system. From arrest to probation, placement, and reentry, families should be respected as partners by the justice system and involved in decisions about their children. For youth in the juvenile justice system, family is best defined broadly to include biological family members, extended and chosen family (including godparents and foster siblings), and other important people such as mentors, teachers, and coaches. Research on the role of family involvement is growing and reflects what juvenile justice staff know through their own experience; youth with strong and diverse support systems have better outcomes.

The purpose of this RFP is to serve moderate to high risk youth and their families in the community and in residential facilities in order to reduce recidivism and seamlessly transition incarcerated youth back into the community. Proposers are encouraged to examine local data from previous years gathered by local law enforcement in order to understand the profiles of youth who were under the supervision or in the custody of OJJ before considering program design.

Considerable evidence has been found to show that assessing each youth's risk of re-arrest can help with classifying youth for appropriate levels/types of programming, as well as, the necessary intensiveness of services. Therefore, Proposers will have the benefit of accessing a standardized risk assessment (provided by OJJ) to aid in the decision-making process.

Bolstering a continuum of community support services and supervision has been shown to reduce recidivism, while promoting a positive relationship between youth, their families, and the community. Support services may include family and community reintegration and prevention services, basic life skills, job skills & employment training, job placement, educational support, as well as providing mentoring and apprenticeship opportunities.

Proposers will be expected to bring together system stakeholders, community leaders and residents to identify and access existing local resources for the development of a multifaceted response to prevent further penetration in the system. This community-focused planning approach will allow for the maximum usage of available community resources and ensure broad community support.

It is the intention of OJJ to make multiple awards for this RFP.

Proposers should fully describe how their project will reduce risk factors of program participants through the use of an evidence-based model that addresses family engagement, reduces negative peer association, increases prosocial activities, and is tailored to the individual cognitive and maturity levels of their participants.

1.2 Background

The Office of Juvenile Justice is a cabinet-level agency whose head, the Deputy Secretary, reports directly to the Governor of Louisiana. Our official title is Department of Public Safety and Corrections, Youth Services, Office of Juvenile Justice (DPSC/YS/OJJ).

1.9.7 Veteran and Hudson Initiative Programs Participation

The State of Louisiana Veteran and Hudson Initiatives are designed to provide additional opportunities for Louisiana-based small entrepreneurship (sometimes referred to as LaVet's and SE's respectively) to participate in contracting and procurement with the State. A certified Veteran-Owned and Service-Connected Disabled Veteran-Owned small entrepreneurship (LaVet) and a Louisiana Initiative for Small Entrepreneurships (Hudson Initiative) small entrepreneurship are businesses that have been certified by the Louisiana Department of Economic Development. All eligible vendors are encouraged to become certified. Qualification requirements and online certification are available at:

<https://smallbiz.louisianaeconomicdevelopment.com>.

If a Proposer is not a certified small entrepreneurship as described herein, but plans to use certified small entrepreneurship(s), Proposer shall include in their proposal the names of their certified Veteran Initiative or Hudson Initiative small entrepreneurship subcontractor(s), a description of the work each will perform, and the dollar value of each subcontract.

During the term of the contract and at expiration, the Contractor will also be required to report Veteran-Owned and Service-Connected Disabled Veteran-Owned and Hudson Initiative small entrepreneurship subcontractor or distributor participation and the dollar amount of each.

In RFP's requiring the compliance of a good faith subcontracting plan, the State may require Proposers to submit information on their business relationships and arrangements with certified LaVet or Hudson Initiative subcontractors at the time of proposal review. Agreements between a Proposer and a certified LaVet or Hudson Initiative subcontractor in which the certified LaVet or Hudson Initiative subcontractor promises not to provide subcontracting quotations to other Proposers shall be prohibited.

If performing its evaluation of proposals, the State reserves the right to require a non-certified Proposer to provide documentation and information supporting a good faith subcontracting plan. Such proof may include contracts between Proposer and certified Veteran Initiative and/or Hudson Initiative subcontractor(s).

If a contract is awarded to a Proposer who proposed a good faith subcontracting plan, the using agency, the Louisiana Department of Economic Development (LED), or the Office of State Procurement (OSP) may audit Contractor to determine whether Contractor has complied in good faith with its subcontracting plan. The Contractor must be able to provide supporting documentation (i.e., phone logs, fax transmittals, letter, e-mails) to demonstrate its good faith subcontracting plan was followed. If it is determined at any time by the using agency, LED, or the OSP Director that the Contractor did not in fact perform in good faith its subcontracting plan, the contract award or the existing contract may be terminated.

The BAFO negotiation may be used to assist the State in clarifying the scope of work or to obtain the most cost effective pricing available.

The written invitation to participate in BAFO will not obligate the state to a commitment to enter into a contract.

1.29 Contract Award and Execution

The State reserves the right to enter into a contract based on the initial offers received without further discussion of the proposals submitted. The State reserves the right to contract for all or a partial list of services offered in the proposals.

YS shall not be responsible for the cost of services that are not included in the per diem unless prior written authorization has been obtained from YS.

If within thirty (30) calendar days after receipt of such notice, the Contractor shall not have either corrected such failure or, in the case of failure which cannot be corrected in thirty (30) calendar days, begun in good faith to correct said failure and thereafter proceeded diligently to complete such correction, then the State may, at its option, place the Contractor in default and the Contract shall terminate on the date specified in such notice. Failure to perform within the time agreed upon in the contract may constitute default and may cause cancellation of the contract.

Contractor shall be entitled to payment for deliverables in progress, to the extent work has been performed satisfactorily.

1.35.3 Termination for Non-Appropriation of Funds

The continuation of the contract shall be contingent upon the appropriation of funds by the legislature to fulfill the requirements of the contract by the legislature. If the legislature fails to appropriate sufficient monies to provide for the continuation of the contract, or if such appropriation is reduced by the veto of the Governor or by any means provided in the appropriations act of Title 39 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950 to prevent the total appropriation for the year from exceeding revenues for that year, or for any other lawful purpose, and the effect of such reduction is to provide insufficient monies for the continuation of the contract, the contract shall terminate on the date of the beginning of the first fiscal year for which funds have not been appropriated.

1.36 Assignment

No Contractor shall assign any interest in the contract by assignment, transfer, or novation, without prior written consent of the State. This provision shall not be construed to prohibit the Contractor from assigning to a bank, trust company, or other financial institution any money due or to become due from approved contracts without such prior written consent. 1.40 Entire Agreement/ Order of Precedence

The contract, together with the RFP and addenda issued thereto by the State, the proposal submitted by the Contractor in response to the State's RFP, and any exhibits specifically incorporated herein by reference, shall constitute the entire agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter.

In the event of any inconsistent or incompatible provisions, the signed agreement (excluding the RFP and the Contractor's proposal) shall take precedence, followed by the provisions of the RFP, and then by the terms of the Contractor's proposal.

1.41 Contract Modifications

No amendment or variation of the terms of the contract shall be valid unless made in writing, signed by the parties and approved as required by law. No oral understanding or agreement not incorporated in the contract shall be binding on any of the parties.

In the event that any State or Contractor personnel become unavailable due to resignation, illness, or other factors, excluding assignment to a project outside this contract, outside of the State's or Contractor's reasonable control, as the case may be, the State or the Contractor shall be responsible for providing an equally qualified replacement in time to avoid delays in completing tasks. The Contractor will make every reasonable attempt to assign the personnel listed in his proposal.

Proposer also has not retaliated against any person or other entity for reporting such refusal, termination, or commercially limiting actions. The State reserves the right to reject the response of the Proposer if this certification is subsequently determined to be false, and to terminate any contract awarded based on such a false response.

PART II: SCOPE OF WORK/SERVICES

2.1 Scope of Work

Contractor shall provide Youth and family based services to meet the needs of youth in all levels of the continuum of care to include probation, out-of-home placement and eventual transition into the community.

Family Support

The family support component is a community-based program component designed to provide support and training to youth and their families. Moderate to high risk supervision youth (as determined by the SAVRY) will be referred to the program by juvenile probation and parole staff. The best juvenile justice systems value the parent-child and the family relationships of the youth in their care. The Contractor should be well positioned to strengthen these critical relationships, which ultimately improve outcomes for juvenile justice involved youth. Research indicates that juveniles with positive family involvement are more likely to succeed. (Garfinkel, L., Improving Family Involvement for Juvenile Offenders with Emotional/Behavioral Disorders and Related Disabilities). Families play an integral role in the development and success of youth and a majority of them are willing to engage in the process. These families, however, face extreme difficulties in many aspects of their lives which makes it difficult for them to fully participate. An effective program incorporates the needs of the youth, family, agencies and public safety in building a treatment plan for the positive development of the youth and a productive future. Some eligible activities are listed below:

- Family Training – Family and friends of youth are trained to provide behavioral support. (Examples of acceptable programs are Strengthening Families and Parenting Wisely)
- Cognitive Behavioral Interventions – Structured programs designed to focus on patterns of thinking and the beliefs, attitudes and values that underlie thinking. Cognitive Behavioral Therapy programs concentrate on developing skills to recognize distorted or unrealistic behavior when it happens and then changing that thinking or belief to mollify or eliminate problematic behavior.
- Mentoring - Programs to develop and sustain a one-to-one supportive relationship between a responsible adult age twenty-one (21) or older and a youthful offender that takes place on a regular basis. As a juvenile justice strategy, mentoring is an opportunity to provide support to the juvenile where it is missing, particularly in instances of high rates of family disruption. Mentoring makes alternate adult support networks available to juveniles and provides alternate opportunity for intimate relations (Cullen, 1994).

- Family Advocate – Assisting families in accessing services and supports in the community.
- Substance Abuse - Programs to treat the use and abuse of illegal and other prescription and non-prescription drugs and the use and abuse of alcohol among youthful offenders.
- Gender – Specific Services – Services to address the needs of female offenders, including, 1) Substance Abuse; 2) Psychiatric Disorders 3) Poverty, Lack of Skills and Ethnicity; 4) Motherhood; 5) Physical and Sexual Abuse; and/or 6) Pathways to Crime;
- Organized Recreational Activities – Organized recreational activities designed to strengthen families and keep youth from penetrating further into the juvenile justice system.

Placement

The placement component is a community-based phase that begins at the point of correctional placement (secure/non-secure care). Secure/non-secure custody youth will be referred to the program by probation and parole staff or youth will transition from the Family Support phase. Youth development theory stresses that maintaining social ties throughout incarceration is even more vital for youth than for adults. Incarceration separates adolescents from their home during a period of development when their sense of well-being and their coping skills are still highly influenced by parents and other family members (Dmitrieva et al., 2012). When placed in an adverse setting, such as a correctional institution, young people frequently have much more difficulty regulating their moods and behaviors (Spear, 2000). This transitional period at the beginning of a youth's incarceration is characterized by "concurrent stressors" such as isolation and adjustment to a restrictive environment, which can intensify preexisting emotional and behavioral problems (Cicchetti & Rogosch, 2002).

Best practices recognize that reentry begins at the time of admission to an out-of-home placement and continues through the youth's release and transition into the community. It is a continuum typically described in three (3) phases of "transition" with five (5) stages:

I. Placement Phase

- a. Stage 1 - correctional placement (point of admission to an out-of-home placement.)
Some acceptable activities are listed below:
 - Work with OJJ and be part of planning for the Placement phase -- reintegration will be introduced at admission.
 - Facilitate youth/parent communication throughout placement via transportation, telephone, and video conferencing.

- Engage the family through regular in-home meetings.
- Utilize an evidence-based curriculum, such as Strengthening Families or to provide family training on a regular basis to ensure the families are competent to provide behavioral supports to youth upon reintegration/transition.
- Act as a liaison between the family, probation officer and residential case manager to keep the family informed of the youth's status throughout the period of out-of-home placement.

II. Reintegration/Transition

The Reintegration/Transition phase is a community-based phase designed to provide re-entry assistance to male and female youth, ages ten (10) to twenty-one (21), who are transitioning from secure and non-secure residential custody placements (see Section 1.5 Definitions) to the community. Pre-release youth are either referred to the program by juvenile probation and parole officers approximately ninety (90) days prior to the end of the residential phase or youth transition from the Placement Phase of treatment during which time the contractor will be required to meet regularly with the youth, family and residential facility to plan for re-entry. The contractor will work with OJJ to coordinate a plan for the re-entry services that were introduced to the youth and family upon admission. This gives the youth and family an understanding that placement is temporary and the ultimate goal is successful reintegration/transition back to a community with supports.

II. Reintegration/Transition Phase

- a. Stage 2 - Transition from placement (the latter portion of placement when discharge planning should be finalized)
- b. Stage 3 - Transition to community aftercare (the initial period of community reentry/aftercare)

III. Community-Based Phase

The Community-Based Phase begins after the Reintegration/Transition Phase or following a community-based referral from the Office of Juvenile Justice. The Community-Based Phase is designed to transition youth from aftercare services to preparing them for life without juvenile justice intervention. The Contractor will be expected to work with OJJ to plan for the youth's success absent aftercare supports.

- a. Stage 4 - On community aftercare (the duration of community aftercare/supervised release following an initial period of adjustment)
- b. Stage 5 - Life without any formal or official justice system jurisdiction

The services described below account primarily for Phases II and III. The Contractor should also be able to offer sustainable education and work services that the youth may continue once they have completed community aftercare.

OJJ, partnered with the Contractor, will provide a re-entry model that provides youth with a systematic continuity of care throughout the phases of the reentry continuum. Essential to this model is the use of assessments to classify youth and match them to appropriate services. This will be accomplished through a consolidated facility and community case plan that incorporates family and social networks, social controls, and services focused on risk and protective factors. OJJ will provide supervision and graduated sanctions and incentives (realistic and enforceable post-release conditions), and the Contractor will primarily provide support, advocacy, mentoring, and links to community resources and non-correctional youth-serving systems (e.g. education, employment, behavioral health, transportation, health services, etc.).

The Contractor will provide six (6) critical elements of juvenile reentry. These elements will apply to the Placement and Reintegration/Transition phases, operate in tandem and prioritize the use of evidence-based programming. They are:

- Assessment of risk for reoffending, strengths, and needs (OJJ provides this through the SAVRY and Contractor provides agreed upon case management measures of re-entry progress.)
- Cognitive-behavioral interventions – structured programs designed to focus on patterns of thinking and the beliefs, attitudes and values that underlie thinking. Cognitive Behavioral Interventions concentrate on developing skills to recognize distorted or unrealistic behavior when it happens and then change that thinking or belief to mollify or eliminate problematic behavior.
- Family Engagement – programs and services that keep family members and others who provide support engaged during the period of out-of-home placement
- Release readiness – identifying resources in the community that meet the needs of the youth and family following re-entry.
- Permanency Planning – identifying a permanent living situation for transitioning youth at least ninety (90) days prior to release with an adult whom the youth has a continuous reciprocal relationship.
- Staffing and Workforce Competencies – specific training requirements for reintegration/transition staff.

The Contractor should be well versed and equipped to work with OJJ to assist youth through the many common challenges faced at re-entry. These include, but are not limited to, the following-

- A delinquency adjudication can hinder a child's access to school; youth may be expelled for certain offenses and some jurisdictions have enacted laws creating barriers to re-enrollment for adjudicated youth. Many youth enter the juvenile justice system with significant educational deficits. The academic achievement levels of adolescents that are adjudicated delinquent rarely exceed the elementary school level and some estimate that as many as seventy percent (70%) of youth in the justice system have learning disabilities. Yet education is essential to ensuring long-term re-entry success for youth in the justice system. Unfortunately, youth in the juvenile justice system face many barriers to their education while they are held in facilities. Once they are released from secure custody, sixty-six percent (66%) do not return to school. These barriers include:

- a. limited education opportunities while incarcerated;
 - b. correctional curricula alignment with State standards which can result in credits not transferring or being accepted by the home school district;
 - c. delays in the transfer of youth's educational records and credits from the correctional educational facility to their community school upon release; and
 - d. barriers some schools and states have enacted to prevent youth from re-enrolling in school.
- A youth's ability to get a job or obtain a license required for certain professions may be hindered by a delinquency adjudication. Committing youths to juvenile facilities can have an adverse effect on their employability. Employment is a strong predictor of decreased recidivism, with numerous studies finding that individuals who have a job are less likely to commit an offense. Employability is particularly important, since many youth are no longer minors when they are released. Due to facility and length of stay limitations, youth may not receive sufficient education and job training while in secure facilities to be job-ready upon release. Problems might include:
 - a. Lack of career technical education. Even when provided, it may be insufficient to prepare youth to be gainfully employed if the programs are not in line with industry requirements for that vocation.
 - b. Lack of "soft" work skills needed to secure and keep jobs, such as interviewing, problem-solving, and anger management, as this often is not provided in facilities.
 - c. Juvenile justice-involved youth often need continued on-the-job training when they are out in the work force. State regulations may bar youth with records from positions in certain industries, and employers may extend this beyond what is strictly prohibited.
 - d. Employers may be reluctant to hire youth with delinquency records.
 - e. Particularly in times of high unemployment, when employers have many applicants, they simply don't want to take the additional risk of hiring youth who have been justice-involved.
 - f. A number of other types of jobs may bar a person with a juvenile record from being hired, particularly jobs that require government-issued licenses, working with vulnerable populations, and positions involving financial responsibility.
 - g. Youth often are not connected with vocational training or resources to help them access employment upon release. Providing these services can be an effective way to help youth get long-term employment.

A youth's involvement in the juvenile justice system may affect his or her household's eligibility for public housing, or cause his or her family to be evicted. Many youth face challenges finding stable housing when released from out-of-home placements due to a variety of factors:

- Homeless youth are disproportionately likely to be involved in the juvenile justice system, often due to arrest for "quality-of-life offenses," such as panhandling, loitering, and sleeping in public, as well as prostitution in exchange for food or shelter. Most will continue to have housing challenges upon release. Many youth become homeless when released from juvenile justice facilities because of severe conflicts with parents, parental abuse, homeless parents, or policies prohibiting individuals convicted of certain offenses from living in public housing.
- A disproportionate percentage of youth in the juvenile justice system have past or current involvement in the child welfare system. Youth who were previously in foster care can lose their foster care placements once released from confinement, leaving them with the challenge of finding stable housing.

- Over half of the youth involved in the juvenile justice system have a diagnosable mental health or substance use disorder; the prevalence of disorders (and co-occurring disorders) increases significantly the further youth penetrate the justice system. Additionally, youth in the juvenile justice system report higher rates of trauma exposure than youth in the general population, leaving them at risk for mental health disorders such as post-traumatic stress syndrome. Youth with mental health and/or substance abuse issues confined in juvenile justice facilities can face some of the following challenges while incarcerated and when released:
 - a. The high percentage of confined youth with co-occurring mental and substance use disorders adds to the challenges of finding staff who can provide effective treatment.
 - b. Youth are often prescribed medications to manage mental health issues in facilities. They are often released with continued need for medications to continue to control behavior.
 - c. Many youth are eligible for Medicaid or other health insurance, yet have not been enrolled – or their Medicaid benefits were terminated when they were confined and reapplying can take ninety (90) days or more.
 - d. Gaps in services significantly increase a youth's risk of reoffending.
- Families may be the single most important factor determining whether a youth will successfully reintegrate. Yet families are too often seen as the problem – “the root cause and driving force” behind the youth's problem behavior. As a result, the system can hamper family connections, making it difficult for families to plan for their child's return home and support them as needed. Barriers to family involvement and reconnection with youth can include:
 - a. Facilities located in remote areas far from children's homes and difficult, if not impossible, to reach by public transit
 - b. restrictive visitation rules on timing and duration of visits, and limiting visitors to “immediate family members,” can exclude those with alternative family arrangements
 - c. lack of post-release planning
- A juvenile adjudication may disqualify or delay an individual from obtaining public benefits
- Some juvenile adjudications, such as for drug trafficking, can trigger harsh immigration consequences, such as ineligibility for legal immigrant status and vulnerability to deportation
- Juvenile justice involvement may affect a young person's ability to enlist in the military
- A youth's driving license may be suspended as a result of a delinquency adjudication for certain offenses

2.2 Task and Services

The Contractor shall provide, but is not limited to, the following tasks/services.

- Develop and provide ongoing reassessment of an Individual Intervention/Individual Treatment Plan (IIP/ITP)
 - IIP/ITP to be developed with participation of the full Multidisciplinary Team

- IIP/ITP development and modification is to be discussed at least monthly during staffing based upon each youth's documented progress.
- Develop a plan to measure performance on a regular basis.
- Comply with the Standard Operating Procedures for Contract Providers as established, and revised, by which can be found at <https://ojj.la.gov/wp-content/uploads/2020/07/A.4.2-a-Standard-Operating-Procedures-for-Contract-Providers-Dec-2019.pdf>
- At all times provide and maintain professional level staff that meet all requirements of Louisiana state law, rule and licensing standards regarding required education, training, experience and licensure or certification
- Provide community referrals, when appropriate, to the youth's family or guardian in order to facilitate the successful reintegration/transition of the youth into the community (e.g. parenting classes, housing assistance, job assistance, transportation services, etc.).
- Facilitate appropriate aftercare planning and services directed at reintegration/transition.
- Create and maintain a case record for each participant containing documentation of all case activity including but not limited to the Individual Intervention Plan/Individual Treatment Plan (IIP/ITP).

The approximate number of treatment slots/units of service is: thirty-five (35) in the North Region which includes regions 9A, 9B, and 8A thirty-five (35) in the Central Southwest Region which includes regions 5, 6, 7, and 8B, and ninety (90) in the Southeast Region which includes regions 1, 2, 3, and 4 for a total of one-hundred sixty (160) statewide.

OJJ regional map can be found on the OJJ website at <https://ojj.la.gov/about-ojj/administrative-functions/regional-offices/>.

Contractor will provide for or have a plan for leveraging the following:

Intervention strategies provided to families generally fall within three (3) broad categories:

- Counseling: Clinical assessment, crisis intervention, counseling for individual, marital and family issues, and chemical dependency counseling could be options available to target families. A wide variety of techniques should be utilized by the Family Support Specialist, including structured exercises, family therapy techniques, behavior therapy and approaches to deal with depression, anxiety and anger.
- Skill Teaching: To achieve learning-induced behavior change that will improve a family's ability to function in a variety of settings (home, school, community). Skill teaching should be provided. Methods of delivery include modeling, role-playing, coaching, guiding, practice, feedback, support, and reinforcement in real-life situations to help families internalize the new skills learned. Areas of skill improvement include:
 - a. Parenting styles
 - b. Family unity
 - c. Social skill development
 - d. Child development
 - e. Understanding school systems and education outreach
 - f. Community networking
 - g. Coping and problem solving skills

- h. Household/Life Skills development
- i. Employment counseling
- Brokering and Coordinating Resources: Services should focus on obtaining resources for the family as well as teaching families how to locate resources on their own by:
 - a. Assisting the family in their initial contacts with agencies providing resources in the community;
 - b. Accompanying them to their first appointments; and
 - c. Remaining in contact with agencies to coordinate and monitor provision of services.

Program services should focus on goal-oriented treatment plans that families participate in creating. It is expected that supervision youth and families will receive weekly services following the initial referral, monthly services once a youth enters a custody placement and weekly services after a youth transitions home.

Youth Services will review the reasonableness of the budget information provided to support the per diem rate. The budget information should fully support the per diem presented. The budget should also reflect adequate resources and staff to provide the services proposed without overinflating or under bidding the amount required to fully operate the program.

The total cost will be calculated by multiplying the number of proposed slots/units by the proposed per diem rate. The total cost is for evaluation purposes only. Contractor will be paid per the proposed or the negotiated lower per diem rate.

If the Proposer is a certified Veterans Initiative or Hudson Initiative small entrepreneurship, the Proposer must note this in its proposal in order to receive the full amount of applicable reserved points.

If the Proposer is not a certified small entrepreneurship, but has engaged one (1) or more Veterans Initiative or Hudson Initiative certified small entrepreneurship(s) to participate as subcontractors, the Proposer shall provide the following information for each certified small entrepreneurship subcontractor in order to obtain any applicable Veterans Initiative or Hudson Initiative points:

5.0 INDEMNIFICATION & LIMITATION OF LIABILITY

Neither party shall be liable for any delay or failure in performance beyond its control resulting from acts of God or force majeure. The parties shall use reasonable efforts to eliminate or minimize the effect of such events upon performance of their respective duties under Contract.

In addition to the foregoing, if the use of any item(s) or part(s) thereof shall be enjoined for any reason or if Contractor believes that it may be enjoined, Contractor shall have the right, at its own expense and sole discretion as the Authorized User's exclusive remedy to take action in the following order of precedence: (i) to procure for the State the right to continue using such item(s) or part (s) thereof, as applicable; (ii) to modify the component so that it becomes non-infringing equipment of at least equal quality and performance; or (iii) to replace said item(s) or part(s) thereof, as applicable, with non-infringing components of at least equal quality and performance, or (iv) if none of the foregoing is commercially reasonable, then provide monetary compensation to the State up to the dollar amount of the Contract.

For all other claims against the Contractor where liability is not otherwise set forth in the Contract as being "without limitation", and regardless of the basis on which the claim is made, Contractor's liability for direct damages, shall be the greater of $100,000, the dollar amount of the Contract, or two (2) times the charges rendered by the Contractor under the Contract. Unless otherwise specifically enumerated herein or in the work order mutually agreed between the parties, neither party shall be liable to the other for special, indirect or consequential damages, including lost data or records (unless the Contractor is required to back-up the data or records as part of the work plan), even if the party has been advised of the possibility of such damages. Neither party shall be liable for lost profits, lost revenue or lost institutional operating savings.

The State and Authorized User may, in addition to other remedies available to them at law or equity and upon notice to the Contractor, retain such monies from amounts due Contractor, or may proceed against the performance and payment bond, if any, as may be necessary to satisfy any claim for damages, penalties, costs and the like asserted by or against them.

The State Legislative Auditor, agency, and/or federal auditors and internal auditors of the Division of Administration shall have the option to audit all accounts directly pertaining to the contract for a period of five (5) years from the date of the last payment made under this contract. The identification of all such confidential data and information as well as the State's procedural requirements for protection of such data and information from unauthorized use and disclosure shall be provided by the State in writing to the contractor. 12.0 SUBCONTRACTORS

The Contractor may, with prior written permission from the State, enter into subcontracts with third parties for the performance of any part of the Contractor's duties and obligations. The contractor will be the single point of contact for all subcontractor work.

ELECTRONIC VENDOR PAYMENT SOLUTION

In an effort to increase efficiencies and effectiveness as well as be strategic in utilizing technology and resources for the State and Contractor, the State intends to make all payments to Contractors electronically. The LaCarte Procurement Card will be used for purchases of $5,000 and under, and where feasible, over $5,000. Contractors will have a choice of receiving electronic payment for all other payments by selecting the Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT). If you receive an award and do not currently accept the LaCarte card or have not already enrolled in EFT, you will be asked to comply with this request by choosing either the LaCarte Procurement Card and/or EFT. You may indicate your acceptance below.

The LaCarte Procurement Card uses a Visa card platform. Contractors receive payment from state agencies using the card in the same manner as other Visa card purchases. Contractors cannot process payment transactions through the credit card clearinghouse until the purchased products have been shipped or received or the services performed.

For all statewide and agency term contracts:

- Under the LaCarte program, purchase orders are not necessary. Orders must be placed against the net discounted products of the contract. All contract terms and conditions apply to purchases made with LaCarte.
- If a purchase order is not used, the Contractor must keep on file a record of all LaCarte purchases issued against this contract during the contract period. The file must contain the particular item number, quantity, line total and order total. Records of these purchases must be provided to the Office of State Purchasing on request.

EFT payments are sent from the State's bank directly to the payee's bank each weekday. The only requirement is that you have an active checking or savings account at a financial institution that can accept Automated Clearing House (ACH) credit files and remittance information electronically. Additional information and an enrollment form is available by contacting the Office of Statewide Reporting & Accounting at DOA-OSRAP-EFT@la.gov.

To facilitate this payment process, you will need to complete and return the EFT enrollment form.

If an award is made to your company, please check which option you will accept or indicate if you are already enrolled.

ATTACHMENT V: DISCLOSURE OF OWNERSHIP OF ENTITY

The agency requires all proposing parties disclose any and all owners of the proposing party. Disclosure of the actual ownership of the entity is a critical to the agency's assessment of the proposal. The agency needs this information in order to evaluate the proposing party, in an effort to maintain quality control and to remain in compliance with the requirements of the Louisiana Code of Ethics.

There are differing steps depending on the nature of ownership of the proposing party.

For Proposers who are Individuals:

This attachment does not need to be completed if the proposer is an individual.

For Proposers who are Louisiana Corporations (for-profit and not-for-profit)

When the proposing party is a Louisiana corporation, whether for-profit or not-for-profit, the corporation must submit a copy of the Disclosure of Ownership form that has been filed with the Louisiana Secretary of State. The Secretary of State will stamp the Disclosure of Ownership form "received and filed." The proposing party will then submit a copy of this document in its proposal as Attachment V. The approximate cost is $20.00.

The document and filing instructions are available at:

<http://www.sos.la.gov/BusinessServices/PublishedDocuments/320DisclosureofOwnershipCorporation.pdf>.

NOTE: If the corporation is a not-for-profit corporation that is organized on a non-stock basis, the organization may elect to submit a Notarized Affidavit consistent with the procedures required of Louisiana Limited Liability Companies, included below.

For Proposers who are Louisiana Limited Liability Companies:

When the proposing party is a Louisiana limited liability company ("LLC"), the proposing party does not have to submit a Disclosure of Ownership Form through the formal procedure required for corporations. However, the agency still requires ownership information for the reasons stated above. Therefore, in order to comply, the proposing party shall submit, as Attachment V, a Notarized Affidavit from chief officer of the LLC outlining any and all owners of the LLC.

This information does not need to be in a particular form, it simply needs to outline the list of the owners of the LLC, be signed under oath by the lead officer and notarized. A copy of the Affidavit may be submitted.

ATTACHMENT VI

COST PROPOSAL

Proposers shall provide a per diem rate for each youth proposed to be served. Proposers shall also provide a three (3) year Program Budget indicating how expenses are allocated. Attachment VI and VII shall be used to provide per diem rates and the proposed budget. The cost proposal shall be signed by the person authorized to bind the proposing organization in order to be considered.

NUMBER OF SLOTS/UNITS	PER DIEM RATE

Region(s) where slots will be provided: _____

The Proposer can include different regions in the same cost proposal as long as the cost is uniform. If cost differs from region to region, a separate cost proposal must be submitted for each region.

NOTE: The Proposer must use the proposed budget, Attachment VII, Program Budget to calculate the per diem. For example; YS funding request column "Total Budget" divisible by "number of slots" should equal the "per diem rate" proposed.

I understand that if I am awarded a contract as a result of this proposal, I will be required to provide these services at the above quoted rate for the full term of the contract.
